

David B. Caruso

New York City News Editor,
The Associated Press
200 Liberty Street
New York, NY 10281
dcaruso@ap.org
(212) 621-7828

David B. Caruso has been the New York City news editor at The Associated Press since 2016. In that role, he has overseen a team of reporters covering the federal and state courts in the city. Before becoming an editor, Caruso was part of a national investigative reporting team at The AP and a reporter at bureaus in New York and Philadelphia, where he joined the news agency in 2001. Previously, he worked at newspapers in Massachusetts, including the MetroWest Daily News. He is a 1994 graduate of Boston University.