Mr. C. Allan Reeve has been in the field of construction and surety law for more than 38 years, representing contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, bonding companies, architects, engineers, and public and private owners. Mr. Reeve has extensive experience in drafting construction, construction management, architect and owners' representative contracts; resolving construction, surety, lien law, trust fund, prevailing wage disputes; and all forms of dispute resolution, including mediation, arbitration and litigation, and is currently the Chair of the Construction and Surety Law Division of the New York State Bar Association. Mr. Reeve was previously the Chair of the Construction & Surety Practice Area in the NY statewide firm of Hiscock & Barclay, and was with the law firms of Goldberg & Connolly, Rockville Centre (Long Island), NY and Ernstrom & Estes, Rochester, NY. Prior to entering private practice, Mr. Reeve was in-house claims counsel for several surety companies, including Hartford, CIGNA, and Chubb where he was Assistant Vice President and National Manager of Surety Claims. He also served as surety and fidelity counsel for the American Insurance Association, a lobbying organization for the largest stock insurance companies in the US.
